The Destination

Madarao & Myoko

Madarao & Myoko is officially the Powder Bowl of the Japanese Alps with over 13m of snow falling annually and impressive snow walls on the drive in.

The Madarao and Tangram combined lift pass offers 23 lifts and caters for beginner runs to advance powder tree skiing. Not yet a main stream ski resort to Westerners, Madarao offers a true Japanese ski experience.

Myoko 20 minutes down the road offers even more terrain and fresh tracks.

Located 2 hours from Hakuba and 2 hours from Tokyo with easy bullet train access.

Itinerary

Day 1

Meet and Greet at Narita Airport

A dedicated Oz Snow tour guide will Meet and Greet you at Narita Airport & transfer you directly to Madarao. On your way to Madarao, your tour guide will issue you with your room numbers and any pre-paid lift tickets. This is also a good opportunity to purchase any discounted ski equipment. Please note that this transfer takes approx 5 hours.

Day 2 - 7

Breakfast

Kick start your days and power up with a bite to eat with included continental breakfast starting at 7.30am.

You have a day with transfers included to Ski Myoko, please see reception to book in the day you would like to go to Myoko. The other days the Madarao ski resort is 400m from your accommodation

Skiing

Take advantage of the massive powder dumps Madarao & Myoko are renowned for. With an average snowfall of over 13m per season, get your shred on and experience the terrain of Madarao & Myoko.

Dinner

Get to know the gang in Madarao with an included group dinner of local Japanese cuisine. Make sure you see reception to find out what day your included dinner is. For all the other nights you can eat in at the accommodation or take a short stroll into town to try some other Japanese meals.

Optional Extras

If you are taking a day off from skiing why not book in for a day tour to see The Snow Monkeys and The Zenkoji Temple! This is an all day tour and can be booked at reception. Other optional activities include onsens, and local festivals. Any questions you have reception will be happy to help!

Day 8

On your last day in Madarao you will be transferred to the bullet train station at Iiyama. Allowing you to spend time in Tokyo or continue onto the airport.
